the time traveller for so it will be convenient to speak of him was expounding a recondite matter to us his pale grey eyes shone and twinkled and his usually pale face was flushed and animated the fire burnt brightly and the soft radiance of the incandescent lights in the lilies of silver caught the bubbles that flashed and passed in our glasses our chairs being his patents embraced and caressed us rather than submitted to be sat upon and there was that luxurious after dinner atmosphere when thought runs gracefully free of the trammels of precision and he put it to us in this way marking the points with a lean forefinger as we sat and lazily admired his earnestness over this new paradox as we thought it and his fecundity in november 2010 a small but growing group of victorian alternate historians often referred to as steampunk met for the first conference of its kind there was music fashion merchants and all the other trappings of the victorian time period set in a venue of what if what set this conference apart was the academic nature of the presentations utilizing the internet and scholarly publications a call for papers was sent out and the response was impressive faculty graduate students specialists and general interest writers wrote prepared and presented on a wide array of subject matters this publication is the culmination of those presentations before during and after the conference steampunk became a much debated and discussed subject on our list servers and emails while some had no idea what steampunk was and others had an idea that they thought was correct there was no one size fits all definition to this new genre it was at that point that a number of us that had been at the conference sat down and tried to describe the phenomenon this is what we came up with steampunk is a juxtaposition of science fiction fantasy and victorian alternate history its roots are in the literature and architecture of the late 19th century while having its branches reach into the future it is the league of extraordinary gentlemen the music of abney park the engineering of nikola tesla and the aviation of helium and hot air in the 1980s a subculture of science fiction found a foothold in literature and science fiction conventions these paths not taken alternative histories gave the cyberpunk and goth followers at the conventions a new path to follow there were the works of h g wells the undersea submersible of captain nemo in verne s 20 000 leagues under the sea and the victorian work of mary shelley s frankenstein to start with add to that the architecture of the victorian age as a gentrification in many of the inner cities of america and england and you have a breeding ground for something not quite realized but possibly attainable part i of this authoritative handbook offers systematic essays which deal with major historical social philosophical political cultural and aesthetic contexts of the english novel between 1830 and 1900 the essays offer a wide scope of aspects such as the industrial revolution religion and secularisation science technology medicine evolution or the increasing mediatisation of the lifeworld part ii then leads through the work of more than 25 eminent victorian novelists each of these chapters provides both historical and biographical contextualisation overview close reading and analysis they also encourage further research as they look upon the work of the respective authors at issue from the perspectives of cultural and literary theory while many genres offer the potential for theological reflection and exploration of religious issues the nature of horror provides unique ways to wrestle with these questions since ec comics of the 1950s horror comics have performed theological work in ways that are sometimes obvious sometimes subtle but frequently surprising and provocative this collection brings together essays covering the history of horror comics from the 1950s to the present with a focus on their engagement with religious and theological issues essays explore topics such as the morality of ec comics cosmic indifference in the works of junji ito the reincarnated demons of the web comic the devil is a handsome man religion and racial horror in comic voodoo and much more
